HAPPY VALENTINES DAY!!!

Presidents Day – February 20, 2012

U.S. Presidents Day, officially known as Washington's Birthday, is a federal holiday in the United States and is celebrated on the third Monday of February.

Although it has become known as a great weekend for sales, especially on cars, there's a lot more to the holiday. Presidents Day is a good chance to learn more about American History, civic responsibility and even U. S. Geography.

Enjoy learning as you complete the fill in the blanks about George Washington, our first president.

- _____ George Washington used this to tell time.
- _____ George Washington refused.
- _____ George Washington's home & place of death.
- _____ George Washington's Vice President.
- _____ The 1st President of the United States.
- _____ Location of 2nd inauguration.
- _____ Fought the British for independence.
- _____ George Washington's place of birth.
- _____ George Washington won both elections by this.
- _____ Location of 1st inauguration.
